What is this product?

Type: The Fund is a sub-fund of Atlantic House UCITS ICAV (the "ICAV") an open-ended umbrella-type Irish Collective Asset-management Vehicle with segregated liability between sub-funds authorised by the Central Bank as a UCITS pursuant to the ICAV Act and the Regulations on 23 June 2025 with registration number C553577.
As detailed in the "Switching" section of the Prospectus, Shareholders can switch between Funds and different classes within the same Fund. Subject to minimum investment and holding requirements of the relevant Class, Shareholders may convert some or all of their Shares in one Fund to Shares in another Fund or another Class in the same Fund. The Fund seeks to preserve capital during periods of declining equity markets while aiming to deliver long-term capital accumulation. It is actively managed and is not managed in reference to a benchmark. The Fund primarily gains exposure through total return swaps referencing financial indices and, where optimal, other financial derivative instruments such as futures, forwards and options. The Fund may also hold investment-grade fixed income securities and money market instruments as collateral and for liquidity purposes. The Fund does not invest directly in equities; equity exposures are obtained indirectly via derivatives. Exposure to commodities is through financial indices/futures only. The Fund will not take exposure to Russian securities and will not invest more than 20% in Emerging Markets. Net equity exposure may range from approximately +50% to 200% depending on market conditions.
The Fund gains most of its exposure via total return swaps referencing financial indices that must be diversified, transparent, and independently administered. Indices may reference equities, volatility, fixed income, currencies and commodities (via futures-based indices only). Commodity index exposure will not exceed UCITS limits. Index compositions may include derivatives, which are taken into account when monitoring overall exposure and leverage.
Transactions in such instruments (referred to as financial derivative instruments or "FDIs") may leverage the Fund due to the leverage inherent in such instruments. Please refer to the "FDI" section of the Fund's supplement for more details. The Fund allocates across the protection, convexity and carry strategies, with a combined maximum of 100% in protection and convexity, and typically no more than 60% (maximum 75%) in carry. Under normal conditions, the Fund is expected to hold up to approximately 25 diversified investments across the asset classes and instruments described above
Intended retail investor: This Fund is suitable for investors seeking long-term capital growth with a relatively low level of risk, who understand that the Fund may use derivatives for efficient portfolio management. We have classified this product as 3 out of 7, which is a relatively low risk class. The minimum investment per investor is USD $10,000 or the equivalent denominated in the currency of the relevant Class of Shares. The Fund has a long-term investment policy and is not intended for investors who will need access to their investment before the end of the recommended holding period of 4 years.
Maturity date: The Product has no maturity date. Atlantic House is not entitled to terminate the Product unilaterally. The Fund may not grow to or maintain an economically viable size, in which case its directors may determine to wind up the Fund at a time that may not be opportune for investors.
Depositary: J.P. Morgan SE, Dublin Branch.

What are the risks and what could I get in return?

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you. This indicator is based on historical data and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the fund. The risk indicator assumes you keep the product for 4 years (where there is no exact maturity date). The actual risk can vary significantly if you cash in at an early stage.

The risk and reward category shown is not guaranteed to remain unchanged and may change over time. The lowest category does not mean investment is 'risk free'. This indicator is not a measure of the risk that you may lose the amount you have invested.

We have classified this product as 3 out of 7, which is a relatively low risk class.

This rates the potential losses from future performance at a above average, and poor market conditions could impact the capacity of the Fund to pay you. For a more detailed explanation of the risks, please refer to the "Risk Factors" section of the Prospectus and the "Risk Warnings" section of the Supplement.

Be aware of currency risk. You will receive payments in a different currency, so the final return you get will depend on the exchange rate between the two currencies. This risk is not considered in the indicator shown above.

This table shows the money you could get back over the next 4 years (recommended holding period), under different scenarios, assuming that you invest USD $10,000. The scenarios shown illustrate how your investment could perform.
The scenarios presented are an estimate of future performance based on proxies of similar products, and are not an exact indicator. What you get will vary depending on how the market performs and how long you keep the investment/product. The stress scenario shows what you might get back in extreme market circumstances, and it does not take into account the situation where we are not able to pay you. The figures shown include all the costs of the product itself, but may not include all the costs you pay to your advisor or distributor. The figures do not take into account your personal tax situation, which may also affect how much you get back.
This share class has not launched.

What happens if the Manager is unable to pay out?

As a shareholder in the Fund, you would face a financial loss in the event of a default of the Fund. The sub-fund is not a guaranteed UCITS and as a result there is no guarantee scheme in place which provides a guaranteed rate of return.

What are the costs?

The Reduction in Yield (RIY) shows what impact the total costs you pay will have on the investment return you might get. The total costs take into account one-off, ongoing and incidental costs. The amounts shown here are the cumulative costs of the product itself, for three different holding periods. They include potential early exit penalties. The figures assume you invest USD $10,000. The figures are estimates and may change in the future.

Costs over time

The person selling you or advising you about this product may charge you other costs. If so, this person will provide you with information about these costs, and show you the impact that all costs will have on your investment over time.

Investment Scenarios USD 10,000	If you cash in after 1 year	If you cash in at the end of the recommended holding period
Total costs	117	584
Impact on return (RIY) per year	1.17%	1.17%

Composition of Costs

The table below shows the impact each year of the different types of costs on the investment return you might get at the end of the recommended holding period

This table shows the impact on return per year
One-Off Costs	Entry costs	0.00%	The impact of the costs you pay when entering your investment.
	Exit costs	0.00%	The maximum impact of the costs of exiting your investment when it matures.
Ongoing Costs	Transaction costs	0.22%	The impact of the costs of us buying and selling underlying investments for the product.

We take these from your investment if the product outperforms its high water mark, of (a) the highest previous net asset value per share of the series concerned at the end of a performance period; and (b) the initial issue price of the shares of that series.
